BECAUSE REAL GRIZZLIES DON'T COME WITH BULLSEYES...

Perfect Your Aim Using Rinehart's® 3-D Mountain Grizzly Bear Target

Any avid bowhunter can tell you that relying on “animal” instincts alone won't bring home a real mountain grizzly. The stars may align, and the perfect shot may (or most likely, may not) magically leave your bow — but why not manage your own fate? Better yet...why not manage the bear's? The innovators at Rinehart Targets want to make sure you know exactly what the outcome will be when faced with the real life grizzly. That's why they have provided bowhunters with a tough, realistic mountain grizzly target that can withstand the steady stream of practice shots it takes to ensure that there's nothing standing between you and that giant brown bear except your bow and arrow, and skill!

The key to this resilient target is Rinehart's signature solid Rinehart “self-healing” foam. Whether the target is taking a barrage of field tips or broadheads, the solid Rinehart self-healing foam allows arrows to be removed with ease. Able to heal itself in seconds, this revolutionary material allows for hours on end of uninterrupted training. This king of the forest also features the company's patented locking inserts, which are a cost-effective way to extend the life and enjoyment of the target by easily replacing its core outlined “vitals” area with a new core.

Standing tall at an impressive 60” H with a simulated weight of 300 lbs, and measuring 23” across the chest, the Rinehart Mountain Grizzly Bear provides the enthusiast with a realistic practice experience. Since bowhunters don't let the weather get in their way, neither will this ursine target — the Rinehart Mountain Grizzly is built tough to endure the elements and will be the bowhunter's target of choice for seasons to come!
