NOTHING KEEPS YOUR BEVERAGE ICE COLD LONGER THAN NEW CANYON COOLERS® VACUUM CUPS

Cold Beverages Stay Chilly and Hot Beverages Steaming, All Day

Luke warm soda or coffee – yuck. When you want to keep your beverage cold – we mean ice cold – then look no further than Canyon Coolers® Vacuum Cups. From the company that outdoor enthusiasts rely on to keep items cold for days, and even weeks, comes a choice of two ultra-durable cups ready for whatever you have planned. Engineered to hold twice the heat and cold retention over the average plastic tumblers, the vacuum cups are perfect for your next hunting, fishing or camping trip.

As with all the company's products, performance was paramount when designing the Vacuum Cups. Constructed of rugged but lightweight 18/8 food-grade stainless steel, the double-walled design provides superior insulation for unrivaled heat or ice retention. The double wall also prevents condensation, so your cup won't sweat even when outside temps heat up. The BPA-free vacuum tumblers have been field-tested and on many occasion have been left in the sun all day, and still provided a crisp and refreshing sip long after the sun had set.

Available in both a 20-ounce and 30-ounce version, these extremely tough and great-looking vacuum tumblers are capped with a spill-resistant clear Tritan plastic lid sealed with silicone for maximum temperature retention. Created with the adventurer in mind, functionality was job one. The tumblers fit 99 percent of cup holders and have been ergonomically designed to fit comfortably in your hand.
