OUTDOOR PRODUCTS® INTRODUCES STARGAZER INTERNAL FRAME PACK Lightweight Materials and Superior Construction Make For A Great Technical Pack

After a long and cold winter, many will certainly be itching to get out this Spring and explore. Outdoor Products® is proud to offer the Stargazer Internal Frame Pack, a perfect companion for a day and a half trek through Yosemite Falls, Macchu Picchu, The Tongariro Crossing or wherever your adventures take you this season.

The Outdoor Products Stargazer Internal Frame Pack is the ideal marriage of ergonomics, rugged materials and functional design. All this makes for a comfortable and practical pack that any backpacker will be able to depend on.

The pack measures 24 inches high by 13 inches wide and 10 inches in depth, and features 3,440 cubic inches of storage capacity. At its core, the Outdoor Products Stargazer Internal Frame Pack is constructed of a lightweight aluminum stay built to help stabilize large loads of food, water, clothes and other gear.

Created by avid backpackers – who strive to craft the most innovative, quality designs at unbeatable prices for outdoor enthusiasts and novices alike – the pack not only carries everything you need, it has been designed to store items where you will need them most. It features a top-loading main compartment with a cinch cord closure, perfect for keeping all of your gear securely fastened. Top hood and bottom pockets feature zippered closures that will keep smaller items like cell phones and snacks safely stowed. It also features four bottom D-rings that are ready to hold onto additional items should you need to strap on even more gear. To ensure you never go thirsty, the left and right side pouches are ideal for storing water bottles, while the main compartment fits most two-liter reservoirs (hydration reservoir sold separately).

Comfort and fit being paramount, the Outdoor Products Stargazer Internal Frame Pack has deluxe back padding built into the lining of the pack as well as molded texture for added comfort. An extra-padded and ergonomically designed waist belt assists in supporting heavy loads. Articulated, yoke-style shoulder straps feature sliding sternum adjusters for proper fit. A suspended mesh back panel allows for maximum airflow.

The pack is available in red or blue and, as with all of its products the Stargazer Internal Frame Pack is backed by Outdoor Products' unrivaled lifetime guarantee.
