MAKE THAT SHOT-OF-A-LIFETIME WHEN IT COMES YOUR WAY – WITH PRACTICE ON THE RINEHART 18-1™ TARGET UNDER YOUR BELT

The goal of any motivated bowhunter is for his or her shooting technique to be automatic once that big buck steps out. So how do you get that perfect shot to become second nature? Even the pros will agree that marathons of intense practice is the only way to become an accurate 'archery machine'. And no other target on the market has proven to take a beating from the most intense practice sessions like the Rinehart 18-1™ target. In fact, Rinehart is so confident that its 18-1 target can outlast an entire year's worth of practice shots, the company backs it up with a unique replacement guarantee.

The Rinehart 18-1 allows shooters to practice all shooting angles and variables from uphill and downhill shots, to simple horizontal, thanks to the target's unique 18 highly-visible sides. Durability is perfected in the Rinehart 18-1, as it's constructed with the company's legendary Rinehart solid, self-healing foam. Unlike competitor targets who shed layers one practice session after another, the Rinehart 18-1 will keep its shape and integrity like a pro no matter what you throw at it – broadheads, field points, expandables and even crossbow bolts.

The only fight Rinehart wants shooters focused on is the fight for perfection. Which is why the company has made the 'fight' with arrow-removal an issue of the past. In fact, arrows are so easy to remove from the Rinehart 18-1, even a child can extract them with ease.

And if you're up for the challenge to put the Rinehart 18-1 target through the ringer, Rinehart invites you to give it your best shot. The company is so confident in their product, they continue to offer their amazing full one-year guarantee. Which means, if you manage to shoot out all 18 sides of your Rinehart 18-1 target within a year, the company will replace it with no questions asked – guaranteed!

Like all Rinehart targets, the Rinehart 18-1 is weather resistant to sun, moisture and extreme temperatures – virtually eliminating fading or deterioration commonly experienced with competitor targets. Plus, it's so light and easy to carry, you'll be able to take aim in the backyard, at camp or wherever you're ready for some on-the-spot practice before the hunt.
