KOLDO BLOCKADE JACKET AND PANTS SET BY KRYPTEK™ OFFER RELENTLESS PROTECTION

Finally, Rain Gear That's Tougher Than The Terrain And Mother Nature At Her Worst

Based on lessons learned from the rigors and knowledge that can only be derived from combat, the Kryptek™ Koldo Blockade Jacket and Pants Set is the top pick for elite hunters looking for the best in technical apparel. The high-performance Kryptek Koldo Blockade is the pinnacle in comfort and employs nature's most technical camo for near-invisible concealment.

"Thanks for the awesome raingear! If this jacket were human, I'd be charged with torture. I've spent 140 days wearing the Koldo, ranging from 15,000-ft altitudes in Tajikistan and Afghanistan to Southeast Alaska's coastal rainforest; from Arctic Taiga to rivers untouched by human traffic. Additionally, I've rafted more than 800 miles with the Koldo Blockade providing plenty of warmth and dryness. Keep up the outstanding delivery of Adventurer-proof outerwear," Larry Bartlett, Fairbanks, AK

The Kryptek design team translates military experience into hardcore product features, that promise to perform to the level of expectation whether hunting the back 40 or under extreme conditions. The three-ply, waterproof rain set keeps rain and wind out while helping to maintain core body temperature. The Kryptek Koldo Blockade is constructed for comfort and protection in all the right places. The jacket features a durable exterior fabric made from 100 percent polyester interlock and bonded laminate elbows to shield against abrasions and moisture seepage. Plus, the fabric used by Kryptek is extremely quiet — making the rain set ideal for bowhunting.

From the rugged stitching with heat-welded seams and adjustable arm cuffs to pit zips and waterproof zippers, every detail of the Kryptek Koldo Blockade is designed to work seamlessly with — and not deter from — the hunter. The Koldo Blockade jacket also has chest-high pockets to accommodate a pack as well as a lined chin guard to eliminate zipper chafe. The inside-zip pocket is an ideal stow-away for valuables.

Kryptek Koldo Blockade Pants also feature a number of technical details keeping you focus on one thing — your prey. High-stress and abrasion areas are protected with reinforced bonded-laminate knees, sturdy kick patches on the inner ankles and padding built into the seat of the pants. Additionally, the suspender-compatible cargo-style pants have easily accessible pockets and venting on each thigh for temperature regulation. The ankle adjustments allow the wearer to securely fit the pants around boots making them a "must have" when Mother Nature turns extreme.

"The Kryptek Koldo Blockade is the ultimate rain set for the diehard outdoorsman. From the battle-proven designs to the superior materials and construction, Kryptek has redefined the standard by which all gear for extreme enthusiasts will be judged," said Butch Whiting, CEO for Kryptek Outdoor Group.

The Kryptek Koldo Blockade Jacket and Pants Set feature the Mothwing Mountain Mimicry® camo pattern which is based on the unique designs of the Lepidoptera Noctuidae moth and blends naturally into any environment. Kryptek Koldo Blockade Jacket and Pants are sold separately and are available in medium through 2XL.
