WHEN IT HAS TO STAY COLD: QUEST SOFT COOLERS BY CANYON COOLERS® Versatile, Waterproof / Leak-Proof Cooler for your Next Outdoor Adventure

When you have items that need to stay cold, look no further than the new Quest Soft Coolers by Canyon Coolers®. Built tough for just about any outdoor adventure from rafting and fishing to hunting or camping, these convenient soft coolers will keep items cold for the duration of your trip. Available in two sizes and a variety of colors, the insulated, waterproof and leak-proof coolers are a must have for your next journey.

The Quest Soft Coolers may be soft, but there is absolutely nothing wimpy about them. Constructed of raft-grade tarpaulin inside and out, the material resists tears and even bottle cap scars. These coolers are literally made to take bumps manufactured with welded seams for high-performance durability. Lined with IceSkin insulation, the coolers can keep ice intact for days. Designed with a roll-top waterproof and leak-proof seal, tie-down and lashing points for stowing, and high quality backpack straps for hands-free adventuring, the coolers can be used in virtually every environment, wet, dry, marshy and anywhere in between. The pack also incorporates a top mounted drain plug, which accommodates hydration bladder tubes for a convenient way to stay hydrated when on the go.

The Canyon Quest Soft Coolers are available in two sizes. The Canyon Quest Trek 22 is ideal for frosty beverages on the go. The smaller of the two coolers in the line, it measures 22.5" x 10" x 7" and has 4 secure tie down points to attach it to your raft, boat or 4-wheel vehicle. The Canyon Quest Epic 32 has a medium stow area and measures 32" x 13" x 11". It also has 8 secure lashing points integrated into the design of the cooler. The Canyon Quest Trek 22 is available in Yellow or Flame Orange and the Quest Epic 32 comes in both Flame Orange and Grey. Both models carry a 5-year unconditional warranty.
