WOMEN HUNTERS WILL NOT GO COLD THIS SEASON WITH PRÓIS® XTREME INSULATED JACKET AND PANTS

Duo Delivers Ultimate Warmth all with Killer Look and Fit

Whether you're facing an early morning mountain frost or snow-blanketed fields, hunting in the cold is part of the sport in the winter months. If you plan to go out this season to take down an elk, moose, buck or bag some game, be sure to pick up the Próis® Xtreme Insulated Jacket and Pants to keep you warm because nothing will fit like our gear which has been designed by women for women. Like all Próis gear, the jacket and pants integrate the latest fabric technology and are built to be highly functional and durable to last through whatever you have in store this season, next, and beyond.

While your heart rate will race and a bead of sweat may trickle when it's time to pull the trigger or let that arrow fly, sitting in a stand or blind in the cold is part of hunting, making staying warm imperative. The Próis Xtreme Insulated Jacket and Pants are part of the company's Xtreme line, which provides the warmest hunting gear for the coldest of environments. Constructed from 100 percent polyester 8000/5000 waterproof and breathable fabric, the Próis Xtreme Insulated Jacket and Pants are warm, soft and silent. Both are superbly well insulated, all without adding bulkiness using 150Gm of 3M Ultra Thinsulate – a material which offers more than one and half times the warmth of down. Lined with a thin but tough 100 percent nylon tricot, the jacket and pants move with you while still allowing for layering.

Have access to what you need, when you need it with numerous zippered closures in both the pant and jacket. The Próis Xtreme Insulated Jacket has deep chest and hand pockets with secure zippered closures, which snap down sliders to ensure silence. The jacket also has a zipper garage at the chin to reduce chaffing from the zipper as well as an innovative Spandex inner sleeve liner to keep arms mobile and fluid. This material along with Velcro wrist closures work to reduce draft and keeping moisture out.

And, it keeps getting better with more and more features. Hunters who wear a harness under their jacket will find Safety Harness access at the back of the neck which open and close with a magnetic tab closure. The hood of the jacket has an exterior drawstring closure that pulls the hood away from your face, allowing you complete peripheral vision. And finally, check out our signature Próis Ducktail, designed to provide additional warmth and dryness to where you sit. Just unsnap and the tail drops down an additional 12 inches optimizing dryness when sitting in the cold, muck or wetness.

The Próis Xtreme Insulated Pants which have been engineered to withstand the coldest of conditions, also feature its own bells and whistles to keep you toasty including elastic drawstring and cordlock at the hem of the pants to draw pants tight to the boot. These heavyweight pants are easy to slip on and off and also have 9-inch boot zippers which make life putting on hunting boots that much easier.

The Próis Xtreme Insulated Jacket and Pants are each sold separately. They are both available in sizes XS through XXL and come in either Realtree AP® or Realtree Max-1® camouflage.
