THE FIELDLINE® HARNESS WAIST PACK™ DELIVERS THE PERFECT TRIFECTA OF COMFORT, FUNCTION AND STORAGE FOR YOUR DAY IN THE FIELD

About the only thing the Fieldline® Harness Waist Pack™ blends in with is its environment, as it's packed with hunter-friendly features sure to stand out in the crowd. Taking waist packs to a whole new level, it provides hunters with incredible storage capacity, comfort and function all within a surprisingly compact design.

Built to sit comfortably on your body, the large capacity waist pack features a removable harness system to help support heavy loads. Compression-molded lumbar padding reduces load stress from the waist, back and shoulders. Wide straps along with the padded waist belt work to distribute weight evenly for all-day comfort. Available in both Mossy Oak® Infinity or Realtree All Purpose™ camo, the pack measures a mere 12 in. x 10.2 in. x 5.5 in, keeping it from being overly bulky.

Form meets function with the Fieldline Harness Waist Pack as its level of comfort is matched only by the usefulness of its storage. The pack features a roomy main compartment for bulky items such as a light jacket or extra ammo, as well as an easy-to-access front organizer pocket ideal for frequently used accessories such as knives, a cell phone, tags, a GPS or range finder. Both are equipped with ultra quiet zipper pulls. Left and right elastic mesh pockets are just right for storing 20 oz. water bottles.

The Fieldline Harness Waist Pack is also equipped with the company's clever Gear-Lock Modular Locking System at the front, allowing you to customize your pack and making it easy to adapt to whatever a situation demands before or during a hunt. Armed with multiple attachment points, you can adjust the pack to a wide variety of configurations with just a few simple steps.
