THE TIMBER HAWK® BACKSTRAP WAIST PACK

Lightweight, High-Performance Waist Pack Designed for Hunters on the Go

Active hunters know they need gear that can keep up with them as they pursue their quarry. When it comes to the perfect hunting pack, the less a hunter notices it, the better. Built from the ground up with the mobile hunter in mind, The Timber Hawk® Backstrap Waist Pack will enhance any hunter's experience through ultimate comfort, while providing quick access to the most important gear. Best of all, the Backstrap's low profile won't get in your way when unslinging a rifle or drawing a bow to take a shot at the trophy of a lifetime.

Don't let its modest size fool you. The Timber Hawk Backstrap has plenty of room for storing gear. With a capacity of 506 cubic inches and dimensions 7.7h x 12.2w x 3.5d inches, you'll have plenty of room for your compact rain gear and other essentials for a day in the field. Organization is a common theme among the Timber Hawk lineup, and the Backstrap is no exception. Roomy hip belt pockets accommodate smaller gear for those moments when minimal movement is necessary. Left and right side mesh water bottle pockets feature elastic compression cuffs and will fit just about any size bottle.

All internal compartments are lined with a quiet and durable twill fabric that will keep your gear silent and protected. The front pocket features high-density foam padding on the outside to keep your GPS or rangefinder safe from bumps, scrapes and anything Mother Nature throws its way. All pockets on the Timber Hawk Backstrap feature large loop zipper pulls, which are a huge convenience, especially when wearing gloves.

Too often when a hunter chooses a waist pack it means they are sacrificing comfort. Timber Hawk knew this when they designed the Backstrap Waist Pack and made sure it was loaded with the latest technology. The back and side panels have raised sections of high-density foam padding covered with breathable air mesh material. This gives the hunter all day comfort no matter how hot you get or how long you hunt. For added comfort, the hip belt is nice and wide with a sure-locking polymer buckle and also features plenty of adjustment to fit any size hunter.
