THE FIELDLINE[®] ALPHA OPS DAYPACK[™] — DO MORE WITH LESS

The Ideal Blend of Comfort, Concealment and Capacity for All-day Operations

A daypack serves one simple function — the ability to carry as much gear as possible in as small of a pack as possible. If doing more with less is the motto of your next mission then the Fieldline[®] Alpha Ops Daypack[™] is for you.

The Fieldline Alpha Ops features a roomy 17.25 in x 12.5 in x 6.5 in / 43.8 cm x 31.75 cm x 16.5 cm capacity of cargo space — and that is just to start. The entire front and side panels are fully fitted with MOLLE attachments giving the user even more options for loading, securing and carrying gear.

Inside the Fieldline Alpha Ops Daypack gets even better. The Fieldline Alpha Ops was designed to carry up to two liters of your favorite liquid. After adding your reservoir, the Fieldline Alpha Ops daypack makes hydration convenient and easy thanks to the left or right Velcro[®] closures for your hydration tube.

The extra-large main compartment features zippered mesh pockets; large secondary compartment with built-in gear organizer and fleece-lined sunglass pouch. Whether catching a tune or monitoring an emergency radio frequency, the Fieldline Alpha Ops is ready to support your mission with a digital media pouch and integrated headphone port.

All of the storage in the world would be meaningless unless the daypack is properly designed for comfort. The Fieldline Alpha Ops Daypack excels at this requirement with its yoked shoulder-strap system and adjustable sternum slider. The Fieldline Alpha Ops also features side compression straps that allow you to balance your load for added comfort.

Fieldline has not forgotten the small details of fine pack construction either and engineered the Alpha Ops with dual grommeted drain holes; a heavy-duty padded handle and Velcro[®] nametape and patch holders.

The Fieldline Alpha ops Daypack was designed for concealment and the tactically minded. Given the unique requirements of modern operators, the Alpha Ops is available in Black or Coyote.

Fieldline is committed to providing high-quality backpacks, duffels and lifestyle accessories built to last a lifetime. This commitment allows Fieldline to warranty every item it makes against defects in workmanship and materials for the life of the product.
