MIDLAND® X-TALKER® T65VP3 TWO-WAY RADIO IS A HUNTING NECESSITY

Part of a Family of Radios That Have Been Awarded “Best of the Best” by Field & Stream Magazine, Radio Features NOAA Weather Alert with Clear Reception, Transmission and Sound Quality

Avid hunters will tell you they want the best gear for the best price. Enter the X-TALKER® T65VP3 two-way radio by Midland®. A company focused on just that: superior products offered at world-class value, the X-TALKER T65VP3 two-way radio will not disappoint offering everything you need for your next hunt including the clearest reception, transmission and sound quality in existence and multiple charging and hands free options – all with Midland’s legendary weather alert radio features.

Part of the new Midland X-TALKER Series, and “brother” of the T75VP3 two-way radio that was recently awarded the title of “Best of the Best,” by Field & Stream magazine, the X-TALKER T65VP3 has some impressive features of its own. Utilizing the company’s advanced transmission technology that is less sensitive to interference, the radios are ultra-durable and can be counted on when you need them most. With a 32-mile range, 36 channels and 121 privacy codes giving you up to 2,662 channel options, communication with your friends or family will be a no-brainer on your next hunting, fishing or camping trip.

Featuring the new Mossy Oak® Break-Up Country camouflage pattern, the X-TALKER T65VP3 has been designed to be highly functional for a true outdoorsman’s needs from silent operation with vibration call alert, to multiple power and recharging options. A hunter’s dream, the radio has also five animal call alerts including turkey, duck, crow, cougar and wolf. The radio can be powered with two long-lasting rechargeable battery packs (included) and features Midland’s Rapid Recharge, which allows fast charging using the included charging station or via USB port. The radio also works with three field-replaceable AAA batteries (not included) if needed.

Perhaps most notably, the Midland X-TALKER T65VP3 includes the company’s advanced Weather Scan + Alert technology, which scans for local weather transmissions from the National Weather Service, and will sound an alert if one of more than 80 possible severe weather or emergency situations is detected in the area. Additional features include a backlit display with battery meter and low level indicator, headphone jack for one of many optional accessories offered by Midland, and 9 levels of eVox hands free operation which work together with variable voice sensitivity features to keep your communication as quiet as possible – a key feature for hunters.

Backed by an industry-leading 3-year warranty, the Midland X-TALKER T65VP3 has an MSRP of $79.99.

The T65VP3 radio is part of the 2015 X-TALKER Series which includes the following models: T10, T31VP, T51VP3, T55VP3, T61VP3, T75VP3, T71VP3 and the T75VP3. These models range in price from $29.99 to $89.99 (MSRP).

From the brand’s inception in 1959, Midland Radio Corporation has been a pioneer in two-way radio technology – the first brand of CB radios in the United States and the first to introduce a 14-channel FRS radio to the market. Today, the company is the leading supplier of consumer two-way radios as well as weather alert radios, and is also an innovator in emergency radios, action cameras, Bluetooth intercoms and its legendary CB Radios. Headquartered in Kansas City, the heart of the country, the Midland brand represents quality, value and reliability – everything America prides itself on. With its products sold in leading consumer electronics, sporting goods and many other retailers nationwide, the company is the U.S. affiliate of an international group of companies spanning North America, Europe and Asia.
