ACME® KASTMASTER® IS THE HOT TICKET FOR SALTWATER GAMEFISH Large 2-, 3- and 4-oz. Kastmaster Spoons Deadly on Stripers, Blues, Bonito, Tuna and More

The same qualities that make the Acme® Kastmaster® one of the world's most popular metal lures in freshwater lakes and rivers make it a deadly tool for inshore and offshore anglers chasing striped bass, slammer blues, bonito, albacore, and other inshore and saltwater predators.

Acme offers saltwater versions of this famous slab-sided spoon in 2-, 3- and 4-oz. sizes, with special finishes and hook configurations for inshore and offshore fishing. Like all Acme Kastmaster spoons, these lures are designed to cast like a bullet, sink quickly into the "strike zone" and swim with an enticing, erratic action over a wide range of retrieve speeds. This versatile lure can also be vertically jigged over reefs and other mid-depth structure, triggering smashing strikes as the spoon flutters on the fall with a "wounded baitfish" action.

The fast-sinking properties of these large Kastmasters — combined with their ability to swim effectively at even the quickest retrieve speeds — make these spoons perfect for West Coast "yo-yo" techniques used to target deep-holding yellowtail or tuna. Their fish-attracting action and live baitfish patterns also make these Kastmasters perfect to fish "on the slide" after a school of albacore or bluefin tuna grabs the trolling jigs.

Acme's 2-, 3- and 4-oz. Kastmaster spoons are available in Chrome, Chrome/Blue, Blue Mackerel and Green Mackerel. Both the Blue Mackerel and Green Mackerel patterns feature quality baked-on painted finishes on one side, with a jewel-quality chrome plated finish on the reverse. Each is offered with a choice of a heavy-duty plain treble hook or a single hook with premium quality bucktail. The single bucktail hook is a great option when saltwater anglers want to add extra action and enticement to the lure or when fish prefer a larger overall target. Precision machined and featuring a sturdy stainless steel split ring, these Acme Kastmasters will keep catching saltwater fish, season after season.
