NEW GEN 2 FRONTIER ED X BINOCULARS FROM HAWKE® OPTICS REPRESENT THE NEXT EVOLUTION IN CLARITY

The Most Advanced Binoculars Prove Seeing Truly is Believing

Hawke® Optics, a global leader in precision sporting optics, proudly announces the latest advancement in optical clarity found in the second-generation Frontier ED X Binoculars. The Frontier ED X has always been Hawke's flagship binoculars, and the newest version will have you seeing things you never imagined you could with optics that ring true to the company's tradition of optimal clarity at outstanding value.

The Frontier ED X Gen 2 binoculars from Hawke Optics are designed for those who want outstanding performance and craftsmanship rivaling the best the competition has to offer. The Frontier ED X delivers impressive clarity and color with rare-earth Lanthanum optical glass, extra-low-dispersion (ED) glass, dielectric-coated and phase-corrected BAK-4 roof prisms, and fully multi-coated optics.

These elements combine to deliver bright, sharp images with unheralded light-transmission properties. The 42mm models have specialized field-flattening lenses providing edge-to-edge sharpness without image blur at the periphery range. As you should expect, they are nitrogen-purged, waterproof, and fog-proof. The entire package is made to microscopic tolerances, all to provide you with the best possible viewing experience wherever your adventures take you.

The Frontier ED-X Gen 2 Binoculars come in four models:

- 8x34 - 8.3-inch field of view, 18.5 oz weight
- 10x34 - 6.7-inch field of view, 18.5 oz weight
- 8x42 - 8.1-inch field of view, 27.9 oz weight
- 10x42 - 7-inch field of view, 26.6 oz weight

The Frontier ED X chassis is made from an extremely durable and lightweight magnesium alloy. The Frontier ED X Gen 2 binoculars also feature easy-to-use, replaceable twist-up eyecups, a premium case, neck strap, and lens covers. There is a 1/4 inch-20 UNC tripod mounting thread for additional stability when needed. To learn more about these new binoculars from Hawke Optics, go to www.hawkeoptics.com. All models carry the famous Hawke Optics No-Fault Lifetime warranty.
