RINEHART'S SIGNATURE BADGER TARGET BRINGS SMALL-GAME FUN TO THE RANGE

Lifelike 3D Target Offers Challenging Shots for Backyard Practice

Janesville, WI — Rinehart Targets®, the worldwide leader in American-made premium archery targets, is proud to offer archers a small-game target that brings big challenge and fun to the 3D range, the Rinehart Signature Badger. This critter may be small, but it's ready to take on your biggest shots without breaking a sweat — or your budget.

Constructed from Rinehart's Signature Series solid self-healing foam, the Badger is built to handle countless shots from both fieldpoints and broadheads without losing its shape or integrity, while making arrow removal a breeze. The quality target measures 16 inches high and 22 inches in total length, emulating the size of the actual critter. Its realistic painted features give archers an authentic shooting experience and the opportunity to work a smaller target into backyard practice.

There's no burrowing underground for this Badger... This critter can chill outside year-round thanks to its UV and weather protection, outlasting several seasons of outdoor use. Plus, a patented replaceable locking insert (sold separately) is available for the Badger. This means a new core can easily be replaced when needed, further extending the life of the target and adding more value for shooters.

"The Badger brings a fun change of pace to the range," said James McGovern, President of Rinehart Targets. "It gives archers a realistic small-game shot, with the quality and durability they expect from a Rinehart Target."

Like all Rinehart Targets, the Signature Badger Target is 100% made in the USA. The target has an MSRP of just $149.99, and is available for purchase at Rinehart3d.com as well as select retailers. For more information, visit rinehart3d.com.
