RINEHART TARGETS® HELPS BOWHUNTERS SHARPEN SKILLS FOR FALL DEER SEASON

Durable and Realistic 3D Deer Targets Help Bowhunters Build Confidence Before Opening Day

Janesville, WI —As fall approaches and deer seasons begin to open across the country, bowhunters are putting in the extra reps to get ready and confident for when that prized buck steps into range. American-made premium archery target maker Rinehart Targets® is proud to offer archers a full lineup of realistic 3D deer targets engineered to help make every practice session count.

Archers looking to get field-ready are elevating their practice beyond just hitting a bullseye. Rinehart's 3D deer targets emulate the size, shape and anatomy of real game, which helps shooters visualize the exact shots they may encounter in the field. Rinehart offers a wide variety of realistic-looking whitetail and mule deer targets for virtually every type of practice setup designed to bring field-like hunting practice to the backyard or range.

The Rinehart Signature Broadhead Buck is a fan favorite and is sure to help archers be well-prepared for opening day. If you're looking for a full-sized whitetail, look no further than the Rinehart Signature Big Jim. It stands 56-inches tall (to the tip of the antlers), with a 34-inch shoulder height and 43.5-inch body length. Its realistic, sculpted features and locking antlers offer a lifelike practice experience perfect for fall field prep. Looking for a buck a little more manageable in the backyard? Turn to Big Jim's little bro, the Signature Jimmy Big Tine. It's 50-inches tall and 39-inches long and can withstand shots from both compound bows and crossbows like a champ.

The new Big Ten 2.0 Buck is an updated model to Rinehart's long-time fan favorite Big Ten Buck. This monster buck measures 58-inches tall and 58-inches long, with a simulated weight of 250 pounds, perfect for hunters wanting an even larger whitetail. The Rinehart 3D deer line also includes a variety of targets that feature different poses and species, including the Spike Buck, Midwest Buck, Rubbing Buck, Bedded Buck, Feeding Doe, Semi-Sneak Mule Deer and more. This extensive lineup allows hunters to select the target that will best closely simulate the game and scenarios encountered during their hunt.

Every Rinehart deer target is constructed with the company's industry-leading solid, self-healing foam technology. This enhanced foam is designed to withstand a shooter's toughest shots from field points, broadheads and even crossbow bolts. This advanced foam also allows for quick and easy arrow removal, self-heals in seconds and is UV and weather-resistant for year-round shooting fun. Plus, a patented replaceable core is available for every Signature or Competition Series deer target, allowing hunters to replace the core of the target, further extending its life and allowing hunters to keep shooting season after season.
