"The top performers in our rigorous test protocols earn the right to wear the Editor's Choice badge," says Outdoor Life Gear Editor Scott Einsmann. "To receive the coveted award a product must be innovative, provide value to the user, and be the best new product in its category. From accurate rifles to crisp binoculars to sensitive rods, our Editor's Choice winners represent the elite outdoor products we test each year."

The 13-39x56 Nature-Trek Spotting Scope is packed with impressive features. Built using System H2 optics, the spotter offers exceptional optical performance in a lightweight compact frame that makes it a solid choice for pack-in situations where space is a concern. This spotter uses a fully multi-coated optical system with BAK-4 Porro prisms that produce extremely clear and sharp images to really bring far-off items to view. The ultra-compact 56mm frame has barrel focusing for ease of use and 39x magnification in a spotting scope that is small enough for any pack. It has a field of view of 162 to 81 feet at 1,000 yards. Weighing in at a mere 33.3 oz, it's extremely compact and ideal to slide into a backpack or glove box and is a superior option on long hikes or hunts.

The Nature-Trek Spotting scope is digiscope compatible, so you can use it to take photos with a digital camera. It comes with a twist-up eye cup, lens caps, a window mount, and a neoprene stay-on case for protection. This spotter is nitrogen purged, waterproof, and fog proof, and carries Hawke's legendary No-Fault Lifetime Warranty, so it can handle whatever you throw at it while giving you the peace of mind of knowing it is backed by the best warranty in the business. With an MSRP of $349, the new Nature-Trek Spotting Scope with Window Mount is an affordable, compact, and clear choice for hunters looking for an ultra-compact spotting scope.
