HAWKE OPTICS ADDS 34MM TACTICAL SCOPE RINGS TO EXPANDED LINEUP

New Tactical Scope Rings in 34mm Brings the Lineup to 67 Different Size Options for Shooters

Hawke® Optics, the leader in high-quality, high-value precision sporting optics and mounts, is proud to announce the expansion of their exceptional Tactical Scope Ring Mounts to include four new 34mm size options. This brings the company's total number of SKUs to 67 different models, giving shooters more mounting possibilities.

These scope rings are made from high-grade aluminum that is anodized with a matte black finish. Internal cushioning prevents damage to your scope and triple Torx-head screws on each side firmly clamp your scope in place and hold it tight, even under adverse conditions and excessive recoil. These new rings come in medium and high mounting heights available in both 9-11mm and Weaver configurations for mounting. The best scope in the world is only as good as the rings used to mount it to the rifle. That's why Hawke Optics added to their already impressive lineup of scope mounts and rings, bringing the line to an impressive 67 variations. This gives you options to make the perfect rifle/optic combinations for the utmost in accuracy and precision from a company that knows how to get on target.
