FLY ANGLERS RELY ON GEAR KEEPER® TO ‘REEL IN’ VITAL EQUIPMENT

Durable Retractable Tether Keeps Fishing Pliers and More Safely Stowed and ‘Out of the Water’

Experienced fly fishermen understand the importance of keeping essential gear safely attached to your body while in the water — preventing pliers, nets, wading staffs and other items from taking a swim along with your prized catch. A high-quality retractable attachment system, like the Gear Keeper® Pliers Retractor, will ensure that even a rough fight with gamefish couldn't 'ply' your gear away from you.

The Gear Keeper Pliers Retractor (RT2- 5751) is constructed with robust, stainless steel spring hardware and features a high-impact casing, so it's built to last and thrive, even in saltwater environments. In fact, all Gear Keeper products are equipped with a patented flushing system which keeps it free of sand and debris, an important factor when you're knee deep in the river and facing the numerous elements in the great outdoors.

Adding to the unit's remarkable function and durability is its self-retracting 36-inch Spectra/Nylon line that features a 6 oz. retraction force and a 60-lb breaking strength. This kind of quality is vital to keeping your gear secure and ready for when you need it most, allowing fly anglers to keep their focus on the prize.

Attachment of the Gear Keeper Pliers Retractor couldn't be simpler. The unit easily mounts onto your belt, pants or pack strap via its 360-degree rotating stainless steel belt clip. This unique 360-degree rotating design allows the user to move the pliers in any direction for incredible ease of use. In addition, the unit's newest design update has taken security to an even higher level, making it virtually impossible for pliers to break free from the retractor. However, should you decide to detach your pliers or switch it out for other gear, doing so is a speedy click away thanks to the unit's clever Quick Connect split ring.
