PRÓIS® SOLAS ULTIMATE HOODIE AND ULTRA-LIGHT FREEDOM PANTS DESIGNED TO KEEP PACE WITH YOUR WARMER-WEATHER PURSUITS

Lightweight, Breathable Layers Deliver the Comfort and Mobility Needed During Early-Season Hunts

Gunnison, Colo. — Próis®, the leading performance hunting apparel brand designed exclusively for women who hunt hard, is proud to offer ladies a technical, lightweight apparel set that'll keep them mobile and comfortable during the warmer early season – the Solas Ultimate Hoodie and Solas Ultra-Light Freedom Pant. The Solas line (which means light in Gaelic) combines quiet, breathable performance fabrics with the stretch and unrestricted mobility hunters need to keep moving during the long miles, warm afternoons and changing conditions the early season brings.

The Solas Ultimate Hoodie is the versatile piece ladies will reach for all season. Whether worn as a base layer, outer layer or standalone piece, it's the perfect choice to handle it all. It features incredibly lightweight and breathable fabric that feels so soft against the skin you'll never want to take it off. The top incorporates the company's signature PRÒI-Stretch™ 4-way stretch technology, which helps the hoodie move with you through every climb, draw and reach. The fabric is also moisture-wicking and quick-drying, keeping wearers cool and comfortable as the hunt heats up or the weather changes. It also features PRÒI-Fresh antimicrobial odor control, which mitigates odors caused by sweat, plus UPF 50+ fabric for added sun protection. Included thumb holes keep sleeves in place when it's time to layer up while its fitted scuba hood adds protection from the elements without blocking peripheral vision.

Pair the hoodie with Próis' lightest, most breathable, yet extremely durable pant the company has produced to date — the Solas Ultra-Light Freedom Pant. Made from ultra-lightweight, double-weave fabric with PRÒI-Stretch™ 4-way stretch technology, these pants stretch with you as you move, delivering exceptional range of motion whether you're climbing up a treestand, trekking in uneven terrain or on the move chasing game.

The pants also incorporate the company's PRÒI-Shield™ water-repellent finish, quick-drying performance and stretch-mesh pockets which double as vents, keeping hunters comfortable through sweat, humidity or passing weather. Its Freedom Fit is designed with room to move and layer with a relaxed fit through the seat and thigh, an adjustable waistband and a relaxed boot-cut leg. Secure YKK zippered pockets will keep all of your essential gear secure and handy.

The Solas Ultimate Hoodie is available in Sedona Sage or Veil® Cumbre Camouflage, and the Ultra-Light Freedom Pant comes in both Veil® Merge or Veil® Cumbre Camouflage. Both are available in sizes XS-2XL. For more information, visit proishunting.com.
