HAWKE® OPTICS RELEASES NEW EASY-TO-USE SMARTPHONE ADAPTER

Capture Every Detail: Use Your Smartphone with Your Spotting Scope, Binoculars or Monocular

Hawke® Optics, a global leader in high-quality sporting optics, is excited to introduce a new option for digi-scoping with its easy-to-use, innovative Smartphone Adapter. This adapter allows users to connect their spotting scopes, binoculars or monocular to their smartphone's camera, providing exceptional photo and video opportunities. It also lets you take advantage of your scope's optical magnification power for clearer images at distances or extreme close-up shots.

The Hawke Optics Smartphone Adapter is extremely easy to use and installs securely in just seconds without any tools or unnecessary extra pieces. It's compatible with practically any smartphone and any brand of optics. Made from tough ABS-plastic, the adapter allows you to connect your smartphone to any spotting scope, binocular or monocular with an ocular lens up to 60mm in diameter. Plus, its unique pivot feature allows you to switch from portrait to landscape instantly.

With the continuous improvements in smartphone camera technology, it's no surprise that outdoor enthusiasts are eager to integrate their phones with their optics. This innovation simplifies sharing images on social media and beyond. It also opens up possibilities for longer-range videos for all sorts of applications. Want to grab a scenic shot? How about sharing a big buck from a distance, or a close-up of a bird nesting in a tree? This adapter will also be popular for sporting events to get close-up shots of the action from up in the stands. Digi-scoping with this Smartphone Adapter makes it easier than ever and opens a whole new range of possibilities.
